OLD CARIBOU BROWN IS DEAD.

Character of the Southwest Made and Lost Dozen Fortunes.

Tueson, Ariz., May 19.-With the death last night of "Old Caribou Brown," there passed away one of the most picturesqu characters of all the frontier history of the great Southwest. Henry F. Brown, famed sporting circles of the Southwest, under the sobriquet of "Caribou Brown," was for s quarter of a century one of the most notable figures in the gambling circles of this ection of the country.

He died at the age of 87 years. He was a native of County Limerick, Ireland, and in his early manhood followed the sea as cap-tain of a merchantman. For a quarter of a century he made his home in Tucson. Tombstone, Prescott, Wickenburg and Phoenix. enix.

made and lost a dozen fortunes over gambling table, and throughout his kered career he maintained the name of honest.

DISTURBS SLUMBERS.

Three Families Run From South Broadway Building.

Three families were driven from the three-story brick building at No. 1411 South Broadway yesterday morning at 2:30 o'clock by smoke. In some manner not explained to the police a fire started in the basement. It caused much smoke and the sleeping occu-pants of the floors above were awakened. Believing the building in fiames, they ran from the house.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Ross conducts a grocery on the first floor. She uses rear rooms for bedrooms. Mrs. Armie Dean and family occupy the second floor and on the third floor lives Mrs. George Bachus. The damage is estimated at $50.

BEEF TRUST TRIES TO GAIN POULTRY TRADE

Dealers in Dressed Fowls at New York Complain Bitterly at Encroachment.

SMALL TRADERS IN BAD WAY.

Without Facilities for Dressing and Shipping, They Foresee Ultimate Loss of All Their Business.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

New York, May 19.-Poultry dealers or West Washington Market are complaining bitterly against an encroachment which is being made by the Beef Trust upon their business.

Although no word has been sent out, it is renerally believed by the dealers in dressed poultry that the trust intends ultimately to olize the business just as it has controlled the trade in dressed meats

Concurrent with this aggressive action the trust is extending its business in cold stor-age eggs with a view, finally, it is believed by the poultry dealers, to control that trade also.

Such a step by the Beef Trust has not come as a surprise to the poultry dealers. For five years or more Swift & Co., Armour & Co. and Nelson Morris & Co. have dealt in poultry in their dressed meat establishnents in the West Washington Market, but it is only within the last few months that neasures were adopted to expand this measures were adopted to expand this branch of the business.

A falling off in business in some of the smaller dealers and diminishing offers of sales in the poultry-raising regions were noted recently as signs of the growing business of the trust. Dozens of dealers who do not have their own packing-houses in the West and their own agents buying, are denouncing the aggressiveness of the trust.

a short time, few in a position to know have any doubt. The ability of the dealer have any doubt. The ability of the dealer in dressed fowls to sell cheaply depends upon his facilities for buying and dressing. A few big New York dealers have packinghouses in the Western sections, where poultry is raised, and they, of course, will always be formidable competitors of the packing companies.

The trust will, if it continues its attack upon the business, invade the Western country with its buyers, as it has already done on a small scale; will erect packinghouses and equip them with modern apparatus, enabling them to attend to the Western end of the business in an economical way.

Also it will be able to ship trainloads where their humble competitors ship by carloads and in that way save expense of transportation.

loads and in that way save expense of transportation.

That all these things will be done the poultry dealers in West Washington market have no doubt. Soon, unless some unforseen thing happens, the trust will control the egg and poultry business in New York. This means that scores of small dealers will be driven out of business.

There have been rumors that the trust intended to rent stalls in the market and that an effort would be made to prevent them from obtaining leases. Following these rumors came one to the effect that if the market refuses to rent stalls to the three companies which now do business in the market they will open stores across the street.

ALLEGED ASSASSIN OF

J. B. MARCUM IS HELD.

Curtis Jett Bound Over to the B Itt County Grand Jury-Trick in the Proceedings

Lexington, Ky., May 19.-Curtis Jett. charged with the murder of J. B. Marcum. was brought into the Circuit Court to-day at Winchester on a motion to dismiss the habeas corpus proceedings. The County Attorney was not present, and Jaller Boone. against whom the relief measure was directed, conducted his own case,

The court decided to hold Jett, and made statement that to return him to Jackson. Ky., would be instantly to turn him loose. He will await the action of the Breathitt Grand Jury. It is said there was some trick in to-day's proceedings in the Jett case which Judge Benton turned down.

The habeas corpus motion had been overruled and the case set for hearing June 4 to ascertain the facts as to the killing and satisfy the court whether he should hold Jett at all. Jett's attorney came into court and made a motion to dismiss his own motion. Judge Benton believed this a preparatory step to demanding an examination trial as the law provides. In this case he could not get the Breathitt witnesses and Jett could ask for dismissal in their absence. Ky., would be instantly to turn him loose disclosed that an attempt to poison Curtis Jett was made at the jail here last Sunday. A stranger appeared at the jail on Sunday and asked to see Jett. He was admitted by Jailer Boone, who remained with him. Jett did not recognize the man, who talked to alm quite familiarly. After awhile the stranger drew from his pocket a bottle of whisky and offered it to Jett. Jailer Boone whisky and offered it to Jett. Jailer Boone took the bottle from Jett's hand as he was about to drink. Jett protested, said he wanted the whisky, and Jailer Boone refused to let him have it.

Jailer Boone started to walk away with the bottle, when the stranger became nervous and asked that he be given the bottle. Jailer Boone kept it and the stranger soon left, showing signs of uncasiness.

It has been found that the whisky contained strychnine and it will be sent to the State College here for analysis.

CHINAMEN GO ON A STRIKE. Celestials Follow Chicago Laun-

Chicago, May 19.-Chinese laundrymen struck to-day—the first strike of the kind in Chicago's history. Ten Chinamen employed in a South Side laundry demanded more pay, and when it was refused followed the example of their white brethren and walked out. Several of the strikers picketed the place while a committee of their number later in the day attempted to carry on peace nego-tiations, but the proprietor, Willie Moy, locked himself inside his establishment and refused to treat with them.

STATE BOARD QUALIFIES TWENTY-FIVE BARBERS DAILY.

Free Hair Cuts and Shaves Are Given at the Tonsorial Clinic in the Grantte Building.

Barbers are being turned out at the rate of twenty-five a day by the State Board of Examiners in room No. 312 of the Granite building, Fourth and Market streets, where a daily examination of applicants is to conirue until June 5, when the board will go to Kansas City.

Only about one in ten who apply for a license proves to be the tonsorial butcher funny papers picture, for the greater number of those who come to be examined are experienced barbers, who have worked for years at the trade in other States. The Misyears at the requires that every barber must pass the examination, no matter from where he comes or what his experience has souri law requires that every barber must pass the examination, no matter from where he comes or what his experience has been.

Owing to this fact about 70 per cent of those who apply are successful in their examrination, and the most of them score a high rating, the average points given the applicants yesterday being 50 out of a possible 100. Sixty points are all that are necessary to pass the applicant.

Examinations are conducted by the three members of the board: J. L. Hanks of Kansas City, president; J. J. Ryan of St. Louis, secretary, and V. E. Burch of St. Joseph, treasurer. The board, which was organized four years age, pays a visit three times a year to St. Louis. It came here from St. Joseph, and after going to Kansas City will visit twenty-three of the smaller towns of the State.

When an applicant presents himself to the State Board his name is recorded and he is given a blank setting forth instructions which he is allowed to read before entering upon the examiration. This blank cautions him to abstain from drink and tobacco at his work and to properly deport himself in presiding over his chair.

Then a long-haired individual, of whom there are several in waiting, being attracted by cards which are distributed by the board offering free shaves and hair cuts, presents himself as a subject for the applicant to demonstrate his talents upon. When the subject comes from the chair the members of the board excort him to a back window, where there is a better light effect, and with fine tooth combs scrutinize the workmanship of the nervous applicant.

Perfect hair-cutting scores the applicants ten points, but there is a careful evening of ends, finspection of edges and general criticism of the taste and technique of the poh as a whole, and the applicant considers himself lucky who gets off with eight or nine points. Shaving is easy, and nearly all of the applicants take the ten points allowed. Ten more points are allowed for properly honing a razor, ten for quickness, five for good appearance and five for p
